Maci Devenport of Barberton came home from Kentucky Sunday after a first place win in the American Motorcyclist Association sanctioned ATV Association's Round 2 national championship. The 12-year-old is ranked the fastest girl in the nation in two separate classes in the AMA/ATVA competition.

She attributes her win to her dad for being the most devoted father and mechanic, and her mom for motivation and for keeping everything organized during the race season. She also has support from her many sponsors who offer guidance and help throughout her race weekends.

All good athletes have someone to look up to. Maci admires pro rider Cody Gibson for his smooth, no fear riding
